

Reserved Powers of Council

Council has the entire management of the University pursuant to section 10(1) of the University of Canberra Act 1989 (ACT). Council has the power to delegate any of its functions, except the power to make statutes and the power to delegate. This instrument sets out the powers that Council chooses not to delegate and to reserve for itself. Amendments to the Reserved Powers of Council may only be made by resolution of Council. Council's delegations to the Chancellor are provided at the end of this document.

Council reserves its powers to:

POWER

SOURCE gdr.ec

	POWER	SOURCE
Council, its Members, Committees and Boards
Chancellor and Deputy Chancellor	Appoint the Chancellor and Deputy Chancellor of Council.	Section 24(1), UC Act Section 24A(1), UC Act
	Decide the term and conditions of the appointment of the Chancellor and Deputy Chancellor.	Section 24(2), UC Act Section 24A(2)
	End the appointment of the Chancellor or Deputy Chancellor, by special resolution, if it is considered in the best interests of the University.	Section 24(4), UC Act Section 24A(4), UC Act.
Appointments	Remove a Council member from office if a Council member fails to comply with their duties pursuant to the University of Canberra Act 1989 (ACT), by two thirds resolution of Council.	Section 12A(4)
	Approve nominations to the ACT Chief Minister that the University proposes for ministerial appointments to Council.	Section 11A(1), UC Act
Remuneration	Approve the remuneration to be paid to a Council member, by two thirds resolution of Council.	Section 10(4), UC Act
Committees	Approve the establishment or disbandment of a Council committee (not including the Academic Board), including its terms of reference or charter.	Section 10(1), UC Act
	Appoint or terminate the members of a Council committee or board (not including the Academic Board).
Structure, Campus, and Organisation of the University
Structure	Decide the structure and organisation of the University, by: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> deciding the faculties and other bodies within the University; approving any changes to

